

FOLLOW GOOD ADVICE,

Evidence Like This is Incontrovertible.

The first time the reader visits the Pennsylvania Soldiers' Home he is respectfully asked to enquire for Lewis Lewis, member of the Pennsylvania Reserves during the war. Ask him for his private opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills and see if he does not just as emphatically endorse that preparation in a personal interview, as he does below:

"Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice in the summer of 1896 when suffering from kidney complaint, back-ache, lumbago or term it what you will pain across the small of my back. Since I procured my first box at Haviland & Hunter's drug store now over two years ago, I have bought and used quite a number, for I find that after relieving me at first they fully disposed of an acute attack. A dose or two of the remedy tones up my system, keeps my kidneys in good shape, prevents recurrences, in fact, I would scarcely know how to get along unless I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I don't want it understood that I am radically cured. It is too much to expect in an old chronic case like mine, brought on by hardships and privations during the civil war, but any preparation which brings relief to a sufferer deserves the endorsement of that sufferer, and I am only too pleased to endorse the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills."
